HEADTEACHER UPDATE

Year 2 to 6 enjoyed meeting author Jack Trelawny on Tuesday and asked some thoughtful questions as to what life as an author is like. Jack delivered a presentation about where his story ideas come from and how he pieces these together. A follow-up letter was emailed to you earlier this week and should your child wish to order any signed books by Jack, please deal directly with the supplier detailed on this letter.

Our Year 5's enjoyed taking part in a 'Give Your School the Run Around' initiative on Thursday to encourage active and healthy lifestyle choices and involvement and raise awareness about the roles we can all play in our community.

Well done to EY2 children and staff, who following on from their Hayes Hill Farm trip, treated us all to a highly entertaining assembly this morning about all they have learned so far this year, and some aspects linked to their recent trip. There were many highlights, including some excellent maths counting, great use of story-linking language and alphabet chanting. Our EY2 children were brilliant!

Next week sees our Year 6 pupils sit their Key Stage 2 SAT tests and they have been working hard in readiness for this challenging week.

Both Mrs Melidoro and I wish to commend our class on their conscientious and diligent attitude towards preparing for this week.

Good luck to you all next week Year 6.

We hope your weekends prove relaxing and enjoyable.

Best wishes Paul Miller

SATs WEEK

Parents and children are requested to keep extra quiet when moving around the school between Monday, 8th May and Thursday, 11th May. This is due to Year 6 sitting their SATs tests next week.
Thank you for your co-operation.
